

You must click print to "Print to PDF" to get a copy of this page.
Save the PDF to your computer. Go to the next slide and repeat.

Question	Answer Given
What job are you here for?	I am interviewing for police officer.
Which aspect of your previous work experience makes you the most qualified candidate for this position? Is there anything in your portfolio that demonstrates this work experience or what you have done in your previous places of employment?	I am an outstanding worker. I have soft skills. I have not yet work in the law enforcement field yet, but I am looking forward to do so. If you guys give me the opportunity.
How has your education prepared you for this position? Is there anything in your portfolio you can show us that demonstrates why you are a good fit because of the education you have received?	My education has prepared me for this position by giving me the knowledge on how to identify and characterized the origins, and components that compromise the justice system at the federal, state, and local level.
Can you elaborate on a skillset you have that makes you ready to overcome any issues that might arise in this position?	A skillset that I have that would make me ready to overcome any issues that might arise in this position would be that I have patience and I think things through before making things escalate.
How do the assignments/projects you have completed during your education show your growth as a student?	I would say that the assignments and projects that I have completed during my education has help me to grow educationally and help me gained knowledge on the field that I am focusing on.

Print
Go Back
Next